Mission: South Dakota Cattlewomen strive to Promote, Educate and Inform about our BEEF INDUSTRY.

Message from your President

Wow! It is the first of August and I have only a few weeks before I get to send Chase, my six-year-old, to kindergarten. I still need to get him into town for his school shots somewhere between county fair and state fair time. I hope all of you have had as great of a summer as I have, but it's not over yet and my SD CattleWomen to-do list is still pretty long.

Since the last time I wrote you might say I have been a little busy. Here is a little summary of what I have been up to:

* Promoted beef at SAM'S Club promotion in Rapid City then at the Taste of Home Cooking Show at the Rosebud Casino in May.

* My mother, Kay Abbott, and I went to the Regional III and VII meeting in Minnesota. South Dakota CattleWomen was represented by Mary Hendricks and us. It was a great opportunity and you can read more about it in the newsletter report.

* RASDAK - Riding Across South Dakota - bike tour went from June 8-14 and I helped line up beef jerky for the riders and put on a snack stop for the bikers with my boys and their 4-H club.

* On July 24, I had my first opportunity to help judge at the SD Beef Ambassador contest in Huron. This was an awesome experience watching the youth from South Dakota demonstrate their knowledge and excitement about beef. These individuals will definitely make a mark on the beef industry with their enthusiasm and drive.

* Ruth Farnsworth, Judy Lanz and myself then worked at a Beef Booth at Winner's Second Annual Pit Row BBQ on August 2. There was over 15 teams smoking briskets that the public and judges sampled. Yes, the brisket tasted fantastic.

* Last night I returned from the Sturgis Rally where Silvia Christen, Brittney Neiles, Olivia Edoff, Anna Marrs, Tammy Basel and myself promoted beef at the Stone House Saloon on August 4-6. The rally was a little slower this year due to the rain, but I still estimate that we made over 4,000 impressions on bikers from the majority of the states and five different countries.

Now, as I look ahead at my calendar, I have a few things that will finish my summer out. On August 16, the Southern Hills CattleWomen will be at Ellsworth Airbase Appreciation Open House and Picnic. The Southern Hills CW ladies have always done a great job handing out valuable beef information and recipes to the families at the base. I would love to attend, but need to stay home and prepare for the SD State Fair and Beef Cook-Off as they will be fast approaching (August 28 - September 1). I am also working out the details with Anna Marrs about the Black Hills Youth Football 'Powered By Beef' promotion on September 6 and Silvia Christen about our Annual Meeting that will be held in Rapid City on September 26-27.

Please don't think I am ignoring my family and/or the ranch. I have still been able to help put up over 1,500 bales of hay, brand calves and get pairs to pasture, check water and salt and mineral for cattle, help halter break a bucket calf for the county fair, attend a number of baseball and t-ball games, hike Harney Peak with the family, visit Reptile Garden, camp out and water ski at Snake Creek and attend my nephews wedding. So, if you need to find me or contact me, all I can say is GOOD LUCK!!!

I sure hope all of you have had a great summer so far and I would encourage everyone to come out and help promote our product Beef at some of our upcoming events. The more we can tell our story and give out accurate information the better informed the consumer will be to make the right choice and the choice is BEEF!

South Dakota Beef Cook-Off August 30, 2014 SD State Fair in Huron

For years the South Dakota CattleWomen has hosted the Beef Cook-off, through the Beef Check-off Program, to generate new beef recipes and encourage consumers to go out and try them at home. Our organization continues to focus on the consumers needs and will adapt to what influences them at the checkout line.

The South Dakota CattleWomen held the final South Dakota Beef Cook-Off on Saturday, August 30 from 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. at the South Dakota State Fair. It was the last beef cook-off in a competitive setting. As more consumers rely digitally on new inspiring recipes, we will move more in that direction. We will continue to pursue to find the tastiest, healthiest, cheapest and easiest beef recipes that we can share with all consumers in hopes everyone will continue to enjoy beef!

South Dakota CattleWomen, for over 35 years, has hosted the Beef Cook-Off competition in many different areas, such as Brookings, Rapid City, Pierre and Huron. For many years the state winners were then invited to the National Beef Cook-Off. As you can see changes have occurred over the years and more will occur after this year.

During this year's competition, we revisited the History of South Dakota Beef Cook-Off's, including Past Winners, Past Recipes and Past SD CattleWomen.

As usual, three categories of competition were held, with youth for ages 8-12, teen for ages 13-19 and adult for age 20 and above. First place in each category was awarded $300.00, with second place receiving $150.00. A People's Choice award was given in each category with the winner receiving $50.00.

The competition also featured the popular "Beef Basket Challenge", which put two local "celebrities" against each other in a cooking competition, where well-known individuals have to create a beef meal from a mystery basket of ingredients.

SDCW Minutes of the June 2 quarterly meeting in Murdo

South Dakota CattleWomen met June 2, 2014 at the Sportsman Club in Murdo, SD. The meeting was called to order by President Kodi Blotsky. Karla made a motion to approve the agenda and Mary second the motion. Donna Adrian led the SDCW Creed and Kay Abbott led the Pledge of Allegiance. There were 12 members present.

Mary made a motion to approve the secretary's report as printed. Sara second the motion. Voted and passed. Kodi gave a report for Treasurer Erin Yost, who was absent. A report from Morgan Stanley Investments was also handed out. Jamie Watly would like to meet with the finance committee to go over proper policies and procedures.

Newsletter: The next deadline is August 1. Any news from clubs can be sent to Mary.

Beef Certificates: Lindy Harkins reported that from October 1 to June 2 there had been $25,320.00 redeemed and $97,295.00 sold.

Membership: No report.

Beef Industry Council: Karla reported that Julie Holmquist's position will be up in September. Carol Sides made a motion to elect Shirley Thompson to the director's position, as she will be the new SD CattleWomen President. Lisa second the motion. Voted and passed.

Website and Facebook: The SD Stockgrowers are rebuilding their website and the Cattlewomen could be added in for the cost of $2,000. After discussion, no action was taken at the time.

Old Business: The Beef Certificate Committee recommended raising Lindy Harkins wages from $12.00 per hour to $13.00 per hour. Karla Pazour made a motion to go with the recommendation from the Committee and Lisa second the motion. Voted and passed.

Kids Expo in Spearfish: Kodi worked at this and showed educational materials used. Said we could get copies of it to use elsewhere. Approximately 800 people were reached.

Kodi also reported on the Exploring Ag and Environmental Fair

Sam's Club Promotion was discussed. Recipe cards of the Sonoma Steak with Vegetable Broccoli were handed out. This event took place in 47 locations across the nation.

Taste of Home at Rosebud Casino: Kodi reported that she helped with this. Only about 100 participants.

Club Projects: Carol Sides reported that her club will again be helping with a dinner for Veterans Memorial Wall. Prime CattleWomen did Ag in the Classroom and will be helping with a Kids Cooking Event. Donna Adrian reported on the Mellette County Ranchers Relief Event and Donation. They will also be cooking a meal for Riding for Ranchers Bike Tour.

Stateline CattleWomen will be hosting Beef Quiz Bowl at the Bennett County Fair.

Cookbook: Ruth Farnsworth is working on updating out 60th Anniversary Edition.

New Business: Riding for Ranchers will be coming through June 8-14. Arrangements are being made to help out along the route.

Region III and VII meeting will be held in Minnesota June 12-14.

June 15 is the deadline to send in pictures for the Fall 2014, which will feature Region VII for ANCW. They need to be sent to Rebecca Been.

Primetime Gala in Sioux Falls will be on June 14. Karla, Sarah and Shirley will be attending.

Ellsworth Air Base Picnic: No date yet. Mary made a motion to take $1,000 from this budget for the Hot Springs Veterans Dinner again. Second by Karla. Voted and passed. Hot Springs dinner will be looked at as a separate project next year.

Beef Up Your Bike: Sturgis Rally is August 4-10. Kodi will set-up booth again at the Stone House on August 4-6. Contact her if you can help.

State Fair Booth: Aug. 28 to Sept 1. Looking at doing a survey with technology. Need to see what kind of equipment we would need.

Beef Cookoff: Online idea from Shirley - Choose a recipe and contestants have to change it to make it more healthy, cost effective etc. Kodi is trying to get this organized.

Beef Basket Challenge: Brenda will be doing it.

Sam's Club Promotion: Sept. 5-6 in Rapid City and Sioux Falls. Contact Kodi, Karla or Ron if you would like to help.

Bylaws and Points of Policy Changes: Points of Policy have been updated and we will look at Bylaw changes in September.

Annual Meeting: September 26-27 in Rapid City. Ideas for Activities: Train for Ag in the Classroom.

Reviewed 2014-2015 SD Beef Industry Council Budget Proposed AR and showed the new forms for requesting funding.

2014-2015 Officer Nominating Committee Discussion: Shirley Thompson has agreed to take on the Presidency.

Discussion was held on promotional Items: Sarah made a motion to purchase 200 kids books (100 of each one). Second by Lisa. Voted and passed.

We will also look into ideas for t-shirts.

Fundraising was also discussed, as well as a Silent Auction item for the Convention.

Mary made a motion to adjourn.

Congratulations to Hattie Cramer!

The South Dakota Cattlewomen have selected Hattie Cramer as their scholarship recipient for 2014. Hattie is a graduate of Harding County High School and will be attending SDSU this fall. Hattie plans to become a large animal veterinarian and hopes to return to Harding County someday to practice. Hattie has been involved in FFA and has participated in many community activities in the Camp Crook and Ladner areas. She believes we need to use the social media to our advantage and tell the story about agriculture. Hattie's parents are Russell and Mary Cramer. South Dakota Cattlewomen wish Hattie much success as she begins her college career.

CattleWomen Creed

Believing that the livestock industry is of basic importance to world existence, we the American National CattleWomen, dedicate ourselves to support it with our labor and finances; to promote it through information and publicity; to encourage its producers with understanding and love, and do all in our power to instill in the coming generations the love of the land and of life; the humility and awe before nature and the hope and faith in the future that is inherent to cattlemen and women.

SD Stockgrowers, SDCW to hold annual meetings Sept. 26-27

South Dakota Stockgrowers convention and South Dakota CattleWomen Annual meeting will be held in Rapid City at the Ramkota on September 26 and September 27. The SD CattleWomen will kick-off the convention at 1:30 p.m. on Friday with presentations reviewing this year's projects.

Then, at 2:00 p.m., we will have our lead-off speaker, Katie Pinke. Katie's lifelong agriculture and agricultural marketing experience perfectly compliment her role as Strategic Lead and Director, Business Development for AgFarm. Katie graduated from the University of North Dakota, and is the first of the fifth generation to have lived and worked on the family farm near Aneta, ND.

At 4:00 p.m., Ann Price from Ag in the Classroom will present. She will explain how she informs teachers and students about the important role of agriculture in our society and how we can help out on this endeavor.

The reception/social hour will begin at 6:00 p.m. and we're trying to get SD BIC to do a beef promotion demonstration. Mrs. Jude Capper will be our evening keynote speaker. Jude is an animal scientist passionate about opportunities for continuous improvement in beef and dairy production. In her free time, she is known as a part-time baking goddess and photo-nerd.

Saturday morning breakfast will be served at 7:30 a.m. and we will have the entire morning for our business meetings or to attend the Stockgrowers' speakers. Secretary of Agriculture Lucas Lentsch will be the luncheon keynote speaker and the SDSU Ice Cream social will begin at 1:00 p.m. with all of our statewide candidates for Governor, Senate, House and Constitutional offices like Secretary of State and School and Public Lands Commissioner there to meet and greet. Pool passes for the kids will be available during this time. Evening social, awards banquet, celebration of Ranchers Relief and fundraiser auction will be held Saturday evening. A live band will follow and play until 12:30 a.m.

Let me know if you have questions. If you could, please send your mailing list so I can include your women in the mailings and promotions.

Prime CattleWomen held installation of officers, with State President Kodi Blotsky installing, from the left: treasurer Ricki Kollmar, secretary Judy Lantz and president Ruth Farnsworth. Katrin VanZanbergen is the new vice president, but was unable to attend the luncheon.

Mellette County CattleWomen

The Mellette County Cattlewomen, along with several other community organizations, hosted an appreciation night February 23 for ranchers in the area, connected with the Ranchers' Relief fundraising that had gone on in Mellette County. There were about 60 in attendance for the free meal with meat and drinks provided by the CattleWomen and the rest was potluck. The president of SD Stockgrowers, Bob Fortune, was there and addressed the group briefly, as did the SD State CattleWomen president, Kodi Blotsky. Special entertainment was Bonnie Krogman of White River, with her Cowboy Poetry. It was a great social evening with people from several counties besides Mellette County enjoying the meal and visiting.

The committee from the Mellette County CattleWomen met with other organizations and the money raised (with the stipulation that it go to Mellette County ranchers who lost cattle in the Atlas blizzard of October, 2013) was successfully distributed to a number of Mellette County Ranchers who lost cattle in that storm.

The latest major activity was the feeding of the group of bicycle riders who rode across the state as their contribution to the statewide Ranchers Relief Fund. Casey Abbott spearheaded the event, and 140 riders signed up for the trip. Our part was to provide the noon meal at a stop just west of Corn Creek, at the Stoddard Ranch entrance. There were over 100 fed, and they came from 14 different states and Canada. We served them ground beef sandwiches with chips, pickles, a drink and bars. The area was large enough for them to spread out on blankets or rest in chairs and visit while they were there for the lunch break.

Beef Ambassador Contest

Katrin Van Zandbergen named new membership chairman

I was born, raised and now working into the DeJong Ranch. Yes, Miles and Kim DeJong are my parents and Wyatt is my brother. I was homeschooled until high school, then I went to Winner. I stayed in town with my grandma during the week and came home to the ranch on the weekends. I then went one year at Dakota Wesleyan University in Mitchell where I had a basketball scholarship, but sprained my ankle bad, so I ended up singing the National Anthem for every home game and filming the games. I transferred to Northwestern College in Orange City, IA, where I received my Ag Business degree and met my husband, Kevin Van Zandbergen. Kevin is a farm boy from Orange City, IA, and always wanted to live further west and ranch, so this worked out perfectly. I am a huge daddy's girl and when they say that girls look for a man like their father, that is very true with Kevin. We got married Jan. 8, 2010, and I graduated May, 2010. We moved home (DeJong Ranch) two days after graduation. We mostly have Angus cows, but have a few Maine-Anjou as well and too many horses (quarter). My dad is wanting to slow down, so Kevin and I are working on expanding our herd. I love riding horse, gardening, cooking, and raising my two little girls, Kylee (2) and Kelli (6 months old).

(Note from Becky) "I will work with Katrin in her new position and hope you will help her out. You may ask "What can I do to help someone in a new position?" I would answer, to remember the South Dakota CattleWomen dues are from October to September. In a few months you will receive notice of dues for the coming year, maybe the notice could be put with the bills to be paid. I have found in my years in this position we have great members! Katrin will enjoy working with you and if the opportunity arises for a face-to-face meeting, it also will be enjoyable."

Sam's Club Beef Promotions held May 9-10, Sept. 5-6

The ANCW, SD BIC, SD Cattlemen's Auxiliary and SDCW worked together to put on two in-store promotions on May 9-10 in Sioux Falls and Rapid City Sam's Clubs and again on Sept. 5-6. Sam's Club employees and volunteers from the organizations listed above handed out recipes of what was being sampled, brochures and even guided people to where they could purchase all the ingredients in the store. Thanks go to Ron Frederick, Anna Marrs, Carol Sides, Holly Swee, Laurie Johnson, Teri Heninger, Briana

SDCW attend Regional Meeting

Kay Abbott and Kodi Blotsky traveled to Minnesota for the 2014 Region III and VII meeting on June 12. The meeting was held at Lake Shetek near Slayton on June 12-14 with six states in attendance (Nebraska, Missouri, Illinois, North Dakota, South Dakota and Minnesota). Mary Hendricks was also at the meeting representing South Dakota.

We heard from ANCW President-Elect Melanie Fowle of California. She is a very positive and inspiring cattiewoman that definitely shows how much she cares about the organization and beef promotion. She challenged us to go out and round-up new members to help promote our product, BEEF. The most memorable speaker was Crystal Reith, a young mother that works with an after-school program for kids teaching them with a hands-on approach all the different aspects of agriculture as a Minnesota 4-H Educator. She had us making pumpkin pies in a ziplock bag, testing the strength of eggs by stacking books on them or even a few stood on cartoons of eggs. I could really see kids enjoying her lessons as she wasn't scared to get her or their hands a little dirty. She handed out many of her personal lessons and offered to help collaborate on new ones. A few other speakers we heard came from AG Star out of Minnesota and gave out some legal advice on estate planning and answered questions about the steps necessary to have a smooth family farm transfer. Minnesota Beef Council dietician, Colleen Zenk, talked about different meat cutting workshops.

The different regional directors lead roundtable discussion about the different working groups you could get involved in at the national level. They also went through the Earth Day, Beef Story and Effective Consumer toolkits that are available. For entertainment, the Minnesota CattleWomen planned a supper cruise on the Whyknot ship. It was a beautiful cruise around the area and we definitely did not go hungry, as they served up a number of great tasting beef dishes, snacks and appetizers.

Next year it will be South Dakota's turn to host the Region III and VII meeting and I hope, with everyone's help, we can have a great meeting just like the one Minnesota CattleWomen hosted.

SDCW work Sturgis Bike Rally

It was a great day promoting beef at the Stone House. The tall guy in the picture recently lost 130 pounds. His wife wanted to get him healthy so he ate nothing but steak every evening. They are so happy with his weight loss and are some of the best beef promoters I, Tammy Basel, have ever met.

At times both Kodi Blotsky and I, would be playing beef trivia or talking about beef to five or more people, with waiting lines behind them.

This year I had more diet-related questions than sometimes. One couple had given up beef for chicken and fish, but were still cooking beef for the children. Doctors had told the guy to stop eating red meat like beef. They were very grateful when I explained the 29 lean beef options and how they compared to what they were eating.

Another couple had waited in line patiently to ask questions because their doctor had told them to cut beef in favor of fish and chicken. They were really struggling with the new diet. The wife gave me a hug, because she was so happy about the lean cuts of beef could be added back in their diet.

That was just a few examples of how the day went.

Prime CW assist with class

This year's Chamberlain city summer recreation program included having the Prime CattleWomen assisting in Kids' Cooking Classes. We reached 60 children from the age of 5 to 12 that prepared both Beef Quesadillas and Beef Kabobs that used marinated flat iron steak, sweet peppers, mushrooms and pineapple. The classes were held over two different days and were well received. Along with the prepared beef items that they were able to both sample at the event and take home with them and share with their families; they also received a goody bag using our new Kids Activity bags with recipes and gummy burgers. Prime CattleWomen assisting were Stacey Tveit (pictured with little girls), Suzanne Tarabetz, Leslie Reuer, Carrie Cox, Bradee Pazour, Pam Reis (pictured with the marinated flat iron steak that was used on the wooden skewers for the Moroccan Style beef kabobs) and Karla Pazour who chaired the classes.

Prime also had a booth at the American Island Days in Chamberlain August 16 and 17, which was an opportunity to reach families and campers, since it was held at the American Creek Park on the north side of Chamberlain. The club provided a tasty treat: Buffalo Style Beef Taco Bites. They consist of ground beef with Frank's buffalo sauce scooped into a tortilla chip and garnished with veggies and some blue cheese dressing.

Prime CattleWomen also assisted in the Beef Cook-Off contest September 20, also at the American Creek Park. Members worked at the serving table. Both Prime Rib and Brisket were prepared for competition and the attendees sampled the products, along with other picnic foods, for a $10.00 meal ticket. Thanks to the money provided by the Promotion committee of the SDBIC, kids got a meal ticket at a reduced price, encouraging families to attend.

SDCW hosts "Powered by Beef"

SDCW will host "Powered by Beef" at a series of games at the Lyle Hare Stadium at Black Hills State University in Spearfish. The project is funded by the Beef Check-off and will reach parents and children in the 13-team youth football league. There will be a beef educational booth at the games Sept. 6, with beef trivia to explain the importance of beef in physical development in the youth and how beef by-products (leather) allows for football to happen. BHSU will provide hamburgers and give prizes to those purchasing a hamburger or cheeseburger during the day. Banners and announcements will remind everyone how being "Powered by Beef" is so beneficial.

Services held for Lisa Johnson

Lisa Johnson was born Lisa Marie Reimer, daughter of William C. And Mary Frances (Olinger) Reimer on Nov. 3, 1964, in Chamberlain and died June 3, 2014, at the age of 49 years and seven months.

She attended grade school in Chamberlain and graduated from Chamberlain High School in 1983. She graduated from SDSU in 1987 with a double major in ag marketing and ag journalism.

She moved to Denver, CO, and was employed by North American Limousin Association until 1989, when she moved to Silverthorne, CO, to work at Summit Co. Bank and later as the office manager of Colorado First Construction.

She married Gary Johnson on Sept. 28, 1991, and they returned to Chamberlain, where she worked at Register Lakota Printing until 1997, when they moved to Huron. She started her own business, Cowmania

Creations, to stay home with her children. After selling her business, she worked at Legend Seeds in DeSmet and has worked at the Farm Service Agency in Huron since 2006. Her interests included: her children's activities, volunteering, gardening and fishing. She was in 4-H, FFA, Alpha Gamma Rho RhoMates at SDSU, 4-H Leaders Association, Buchanan PTAO, Huron Wrestling Club, Tiger Roar, U-Fit-It at the SD State Fair, Holy Trinity Catholic Church, Jr. Simmental and Jr. Hereford Associations and was 1985 SD Miss Stockgrower,

She is survived by her husband of Huron; two children, Courtney and Jeremiah; three siblings, Steve (Elaine) Reimer of Chamberlain, Janelle (Gerald) Bischoff of Huron and Kathy (Pete) Torres of Atlanta, GA; and her mother of Chamberlain.

She was preceded in death by her father; paternal grandparents, Pete and Dora Reimer and maternal grandparents, Joe and Clara Olinger.
