Geis, a fourth generation rancher has been involved with her local cattlemen's organization all of her life. She has been involved at the state level for nearly 15 years and at the national level since 2010.

In January, Geis was elected to be the vice president of American National CattleWomen (ANCW), after having already served in all of the offices at state and local levels, as well as chair for the Board of Directors for ANCW in previous years.

The SDCW Annual Meeting will be held on Thursday, Sept. 27 from 9:30 a.m. until 2:00 p.m., in conjunction with the South Dakota Stockgrower (SDSG) Annual Meeting in Rapid City. The SDCW will participate in a joint luncheon on Thursday with the SDSG convention.

Included as part of the CattleWomen annual meeting will be the election for a new president of SDCW. Brenda Dreyer of Warner and member of Southern Belles has served as president for the past two years.

Mission: South Dakota Cattlemen strive to Promote, Educate and Inform about our BEEF INDUSTRY.

#BEEFSTRONG!

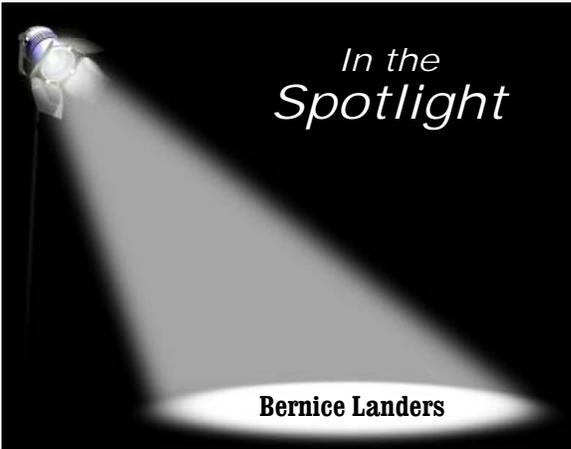

South Dakota CattleWomen were visible at the South Dakota State Fair with a new social media campaign at the 2018 State Fair. Six different signs were placed around the fairgrounds with Beef facts. Fairgoers were encouraged to take a photo of themselves with the sign and share it on their social media with the hashtag #BEEFSTRONG!

A winner was selected each day from the many entries. The winner received a red insulated bag (shown below), cookbooks, recipes, spatula, cutting board, BEEF nutritional information, lip balm, toothpicks, t-shirt and a $20.00 beef certificate. To see some of the entries visit South Dakota CattleWomen on Facebook.

At the right is Miss Brindle, daughter of Katrina (Jarding) and Ken Hostler, who also participated in the #BeefStrong State Fair promotion. You may remember Katrina was one of our wonderful Beef Ambassadors.

Bernice Landers has been a member of the Southern Hills CattleWomen organization since 1959 and has served as our president since 1995. She came to Hot Springs with her family from Eastern South Dakota in her sophomore year of high school. After graduation, she attended a teacher's college and obtained a teaching certificate. She taught a rural country school at Tuthill, South Dakota, for two years. In 1958, she married Ralph Landers, a local rancher from Hot Springs. The two of them gradually took over running the ranch and live on the original land homesteaded by Ralph's grandfather in 1885. They have four children: David, Kimberly, Dan and Alan. Among Bernice's many interests are writing poetry about life on the ranch, collecting and displaying western memorabilia, visiting with friends and neighbors and anything to do with western history. She is currently sheriff of the local Chapter of the Jedediah Smith Corral of Westerners.

MY CUP RUNNETH, by Bernice (Bettcher) Landers (2016)

I've never made a fortune, or found that lasting fame -
 But I hope that you can crack a smile,
 at the mention of my name.
 I have neighbors that I trust, willing to lend a helping hand -
 They live the "Code of the West" with ethics that still stand.
 When my road gets rough and rocky and dark clouds get in my way -
 That's when I look for rainbows to brighten up my day.
 I've lived this Country life and it's been very good to me -
 The changing of the seasons and the prairie as far as you can see.
 When a problem should arise, that wants to grind me down -
 That's when I rely on my faith, till an answer can be found.
 Looking back upon my life, I'm quite a happy soul -
 I'm drinking from a saucer, cause my cup has overflowed

I lived a life with Ralph, then God took him away -
 But he gave me my four kids to help me along the way.
 I will never take for granted that I'll be here for more tomorrows -
 So I'm looking forward to each new day with sunshine,
 No time for any sorrow.
 When the evening shadows fall and I find my self alone -
 Then memories flood my mind of the people that I've known.
 These years go by so fast, why squander precious time - I'm enjoying each new day, then I'll have that glass of wine.
 Because of family and my friends, who have truly touched my soul -
 I'm drinking from a saucer, cause my cup has overflowed.

Promoting sales of beef certificates

Southern Belle CattleWomen and the South Dakota CattleWomen have been providing Beef Certificates as prizes for the radio station for KWYR in Winner for their "Question of the Day". This not only gets Beef Certificates to people who might not otherwise purchase them but makes radio listeners aware of the Beef Certificate program as well. Winners are always very happy to get this useful gift.

If there are radio stations in other parts of the state that might be interested in a similar program, perhaps other local organizations might take advantage of this opportunity to promote beef. If you are aware of other programs but there is no local CattleWomen group, the state organization could sponsor it. Contact: Lindy Harkin at 605-842-9066 or lharkin@goldenwest.net.

Secretary's Report

The South Dakota CattleWomen's quarterly meeting was held June 13, 2018, at 10:00 a.m. at the Extension Office Community Meeting Room in Winner, SD. Ruth F. moved to approve the secretary's minutes and conference call minutes as printed in the newsletter. Lindy H. seconded and motion passed. Brenda passed around the treasurer's report in the absence of the treasurer.

Mary J. gave the newsletter report. The next deadline is August 1 and plans to have it out a week or two before the annual convention in September in Rapid City. She can use photos and items of interest about members.

Brenda passed the directory around if any corrections are needed. Karla P. gave the BIC report. The next meeting is Monday, June 18. The annual meeting will be during the Beef Bowl in Brookings.

Introductions were given by all members present.

Mary J. announced the names of the SDCW scholarship winners this year. They are Brianna Beckler of Highmore-Harrold High School and Kelsey Geraets of Chester High School. Each was given a $250.00 award.

Old Business:

Carol Sides talked of the veteran's project held in Hot Springs. It was very well received and had a budget of $300.00 for a prime rib meal.

The storage unit information was given by Evie F. She needs some items and has ordered a new style of meat thermometer. If clubs need anything, get the information to Evie or Brenda by the end of the month to be ordered.

Kay A. and Kodi B. reported on RASDAK (Powered by Beef) project. The bike route was from Flandreau, SD to Hulette, WY. Beef jerky was passed out.

Tammy Basel is up for renewal on the Beef Promotion and Research Board of NCBA and needs support from the SDCW.

The SDCW has learned of the resignation of Sylvia Christian as SDSGA Executive Secretary to pursue other interests effective the end of June.

The "Glaus Sign" along I-90 is in need of repair. Lindy moved and Kodi second to donate up to $3,000 towards the repairs to come from the SDCW/BIC account. Motion passed. Karla will inform the BIC of this project.

The "Ag in the Classroom" organization from Beresford has asked for funding and was declined at the last meeting. This is not a state-funded organization.

The meeting broke for lunch at this time (noon) and Dan Bechtold of the Winner Advocate took photos of the officers and members present.

New Business:

Carol Sides gave a report on the Ellsworth Air Base project and use of promotional items, etc. The event will be Friday, June 22. She uses $500 in beef certificates to buy beef for the picnic. Carol would like help with this Air Base project and Karla volunteered to do so. Anyone helping must have clearance before entering the Base. It was decided to keep Carol Sides as chairman and find members to help. She says a frequent question asked is "Where can you buy "farm-raised" beef?"

A new brochure is in the works for Consumer Education.

A new venue is also in the works for the State Fair with a signage proposal and no booth, due to lack of help.

The Region VII and III meeting will be held in Havana, ND, on June 22-23. There is a new BIC Authorization Request form PRIME CATTLEWOMEN participated in the American Island Days at Chamberlain August 18 with Little Cowpoke Olympics. Kids of all sizes were able to ride through the poles with stick horses, get into a gunny sack and hop over to corn to fill their bucket and continue hopping over to a steer head. Once there, they got out of the gunny sack and tried to toss rings on the steer's horns. Lastly, they had an opportunity to practice roping on a metal roping dummy. Prime CW have found that if you want to reach young families, you have to provide an experience for them and their children. Shown (upper picture) are Charllie Randall competing against his older sister on the stick horses. CattleWomen who helped were Pam Reis, MaKaela Randall, Erin Yost and Karla Pazour.

Along with Little Cowpoke Olympics, the CattleWomen provided beef trivia, kids' activity sheets with pencils and gummy burgers and the new recipe brochure for their parents. Prime CW Pam Reis asked contestants agricultural trivia.

Prime CW September activities

President Leslie Reuer called the meeting to order on August 20 at the Hall of Fame to discuss and finalize upcoming activities slated in September. Activities include SD Hall of Fame reception Friday, September 7 (chairs are Mary Hendricks and Erica Peterson); Chamberlain Beef Barbecue Fest Saturday, September 8 (chairs are Tanya Totten and Leslie Reuer). A financial contribution is going towards the purchase of beef.

Annual Beef Luncheon is Tuesday, September 18, from 11:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. at United Church in Chamberlain. This is our major fundraiser and all members participate. Marcella Jensen brought posters for advertising at local businesses and tickets for presale to the meeting. Meal consists of a buffet of roast beef, hot dishes, liver, various salads and homemade bars. Door prizes are drawn every half hour.

Both Kimball and Chamberlain elementary grades will receive a care package of pencils and gummy burgers to be distributed the week of their Homecoming. Kimball Homecoming is September 21 and Chamberlain Homecoming is September 28. A vehicle with our Prime Banner will be in the Chamberlain parade and coordinate with the River City Band Festival. Karla Pazour is making arrangements that beef jerky (from SDCW / SDBIC funding) be bagged and distributed to those bands participating in the River City Band Festival.

The Beef Sign along the Interstate on Glaus Ranch property is a go. Dozy's sign company from Chamberlain is making and putting up the sign. Glaus Ranch has trimmed trees so sign can be more readily seen. The financing of the sign is from a $3,000 donation from the SDCW, as well as financial contributions from both the Southern Belles of Winner and the local Prime CattleWomen.

Karla Pazour has been distributing beef brochures and kid's activity materials along with beef bags to the Lewis and Clark Information Center all summer. The addition of Lady Dignity has brought even more visitors to the frequented rest area.

Committees for the upcoming year are being formed. A winter social is being planned for February or March.

RANCHERETTES WORK AT BULL SALE . . .

Matt Bartling asked The Rosebud Rancherettes to serve roast beef sandwiches with all the trimmings at the Bartling Bull Sale in April. Pictured is Sue Chytka, Matt Bartling, Bev Kehn, Jolene VanMetre, Karen Martin and Sara Grim. We enjoy promoting beef by serving delicious beef sandwiches and meeting other beef producers.

RANCHERETTES COOKING CLASS . . . The Rosebud Rancherettes invited students to come and learn how to cook with beef during this hands-on workshop. They were taught basic food safety and guided participants through making a couple of simple beef dishes they can make again at home. Helping were Sara Grim, Deanna Nelson and Kris Schweigert. There was so much interest that they had to have two sessions. How great these young people want to learn to cook with beef. They are our future.

Services held for Lucille Ellenbecker

Funeral services were held June 22, 2018, at the United Methodist Church in Gettysburg for Lucille Ellenbecker, 99, of Gettysburg, who passed away June 15, at the Avera Oahe Manor. Burial was at the Gettysburg Cemetery.

Lucille Ann Herron was born October 13, 1918 to Ida (Huyck) and L.W. "Mike" Herron. She attended rural elementary school and high school in Gettysburg, graduating in the Class of 1937. She also attended South Dakota State University in Brookings for 1 1/2 years.

She met Orville Ellenbecker at a dance in Gettysburg in August, 1939, and they were happily married for 51 years. The couple made their home on a farm and ranch in northwest Potter County. Orville and Lucille worked hard and loved to go dancing on Saturday nights. Lucille was known for her free spirit and quick wit. She certainly never met a stranger. She did everything she wanted to do in her life. Lucille spent many hours working with the Medicine Rock Cowbelles, Lincoln Appomattox Extension Club, SD State Historical Society and was a group leader for 4-H clubs for many years. She and Orville loved to travel and went around the world in one trip. Lucille made many pen pals along the way and loved to write and receive letters from all of the people that she met. She had pen pals in Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, Germany and England and most of those people came to visit at the farm during their friendship.

Lucille is survived by her children: Barry of Gettysburg, and Daniel "Gregg" (Michelle) of Rapid City; two grandchildren: Mike (Gwen) Ellenbecker of Olathe, KS, and Nikki Ellenbecker of Chicago, IL; two great grandchildren: Lindsey (Andy) Holcomb of Lawrence, KS, and Chelsie Ellenbecker of Olathe, KS.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Orville Ellenbecker; parents, Mike and Ida Herron; granddaughter, Sheila Ellenbecker; brother, Max Herron; and sister, Eileen Hegerle.

Luce Funeral Home of Gettysburg has been entrusted with Lucille's arrangements.

Southern Hills Annual Report

Officers: Bernice Landers, president; Barbara Kane, vice president; Barbara Bogner, treasurer; Flora Stearns, secretary and Carol Sides, club representative.

Monthly meetings: We meet throughout the year, usually on the second Thursday or Friday of the month. We meet at various restaurants throughout the Fall River county. Depending on the season, members wear either our pink t-shirts or sweatshirts with our club logo, so we are easily recognized as beef promoters. Our club currently has 12 members with nine members actively participating.

Our Club Representative, Carol Sides, attends most of the State CattleWomen quarterly meetings that are held throughout the state and keeps us informed on State CattleWomen events and issues. All of our members are members of the state organization.

Throughout the year, we sell packages of our brand napkins that people use for various events. They are quality napkins with local ranchers' brands printed on them so they are quite popular.

October: Our nominee, Brenda Schnose, was chosen as recipient of the individual "Prime Beef Supporter" award, sponsored by the SD Beef Industry Council. We met at her restaurant in Oelrichs and presented her with her plaque and had pictures taken for the local newspapers. Brenda joined our club as a new member.

November: This was a work project meeting. Members assembled ingredients for "Hot Chocolate in a Jar" to be used as centerpieces for the annual Ag Appreciation Banquet sponsored by the Ag Committee of the Hot Springs Chamber of Commerce. We also attended this event and provided five red insulated bags and five black bags each filled with various beef related items and a package of our napkins to be used as door prizes.

December-January: No meetings were held because of inclement weather the day of the scheduled meetings.

February: Information on South Dakota CattleWomen scholarships was given to the three schools in our area.

March: We presented a box of chocolates in appreciation to the three banks in our area that handle the sales of beef certificates for the CattleWomen. Members voted to submit a story and photo of our president, Bernice Landers, to be published in the Spotlight column of the CattleWomen Bulletin.

April: In honor of Mother's Day, we selected the names of five mothers and provided them with a $20.00 package of ground beef to be pickup up from Sonny's Market. Money and a card were sent to high school graduate, Megan Logue, a young person with medical issues that we had previously helped

SDCW Scholarship recipients

The SDCW awarded two scholarships this year. Each recipient received a $250 scholarship. One of the requirements is to write a 250-word essay on "How would you promote beef?"

Brianna Beckler of Highmore-Harold plans to obtain a Doctor of Veterinary Medicine degree, return to South Dakota and open her own practice, a dream she has always had. "I will promote beef through my career. I plan to attend veterinary school after completing pre-vet at SDSU. Once I obtain my DVM and return to South Dakota, I will be able to aid ranchers in the beef industry. Growing up on a farm, I understand a lot of the needs of ranchers. Becoming a veterinarian will allow me to service ranchers in South Dakota and increase the production of beef. Through my work, ranchers will profit and be able to sustain their businesses each year. The beef industry is crucial to South Dakota; we thrive on agriculture. The best way to promote the beef industry is to pursue an agricultural career and continue the booster of our local communities business. I hope to positively impact the economy of South Dakota and continue to promote the pride and success in the incredible process of raising cattle."

Kelsey Geraets of Humboldt is a student at South Dakota State University in Brookings. "Growing up, we always had beef in the freezer. So, it is hard to promote something that you've had all your life to people that may think of it as a luxury. I think the best way to promote it would be to talk to consumers and educate them on the health benefits that beef has. If I am confronted by a consumer who thinks beef is wrong, I commonly find that they are not educated. I think bringing consumers out to farms, holding events on cooking beef and educating consumers at grocery stores are all great options. Farm tours are a great way to get consumers to see that beef isn't bad. Most of the consumers that are not educated and just saw a post on social media that changed their minds, but I often encourage consumers to visit farms before making their decision what they should feed their families. Holding cooking competitions or concerts would definitely get the younger generation thinking about beef. It's the younger generation that often posts negative things about the beef industry. Being present when consumers are actually buying the product may also be effective. Talking to consumers about why they are not choosing beef may help get a better idea on how to market beef better. Also, I would use grocery store stops as a way to educate consumers on how to effectively cook with beef. Happy Beef Month!
